

Alicia Crighton

Alicia is global co-head of Futures and global head of the Cleared Swaps and Broker Dealer Clearing businesses. Previously, she served as chief operating officer of those businesses. Prior to that, Alicia was based in Hong Kong for five years, overseeing the build out of the Asia Pacific clearing business. She joined Goldman Sachs as an analyst in Global Control and was named managing director in 2013 and partner in 2022.

Alicia serves as chair of the Board of Directors of the Futures Industry Association. She also serves on the Board of Directors for Options Clearing Corporation and the National Futures Association.

Alicia earned a BS in Finance from the University of Scranton.

