

Lori Stevermer Bio

National Pork Producers Council President Elect

Customer Success Manager, Alltech U.S. Pork Business

Lori Stevermer and her husband Dale raise pigs and crops near Easton, Minnesota and have three kids: Brett, a U of MN graduate working as a mechanical engineer for Nystrom in Brooklyn Center, Adam, a U of MN graduate who's working in Mower County as a 4-H program coordinator and Beth, who is currently studying agriculture law at Drake University in Des Moines IA.

Additionally, Lori is the Customer Success Manager for Alltech's U.S. Pork Business, having spent her time in sales and marketing in the animal nutrition business for over 30 years.

Lori currently serves as President Elect on the National Pork Producer Council's Executive Board. Her previous experience includes nine years on the Executive Board of the Minnesota Pork Producers Association and various state and national committees.

Lori is a graduate of the University of Minnesota with a bachelor's degree in animal science.

Lori enjoys advocating for the swine industry at local, state and national events. Her favorite MN Pork volunteer events include Oink Outings, Grandma's Marathon in Duluth and the MN State Fair. Lori's interests include running, biking and spending time with her family.

