

Joshua Eilers is the sole founder of Ranger Cattle LLC, which specializes in producing some of the highest-quality FullBlood Wagyu products in the world and delivering them direct to consumers. Joshua couples a cutting-edge vision of modern science with his proven leadership from his military background to impact the beef cattle industry landscape. He has nearly six years of experience with both purebred and FullBlood Wagyu. During this time he has been instrumental in the implementation of numerous modern techniques increasing artificial breeding reproductive rates as well as scientifically backed data collection of individual genetic development. Joshua is passionate about the progress of modern livestock operations and is dedicated to further improving the quality of the Wagyu breed one animal at a time. Customers appreciate his insight into traditional cow-calf operational techniques coupled with the latest in science to produce high quality seed stock and direct farm-to-table produce. He simultaneously retains individual data as scientific proof supporting quality genetics, ensuring customer satisfaction and loyalty.

Prior to launching Ranger Cattle LLC, Joshua graduated the world famous U.S. Army Ranger course, one of the toughest leadership focused training courses in the world and the premier leadership course in the U.S. military. As a Sergeant, he served as team leader in the U.S. Army's elite First Ranger Battalion. During this time he honed his leadership techniques by leading his team of Rangers on hundreds of special operation missions involving high value targets.

Joshua graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Biology from The University of Texas at Austin. He is a decorated combat veteran and Purple Heart recipient. Joshua is an active member of the American Wagyu Association as well as the Texas Wagyu association.