

Biographical Sketch of Fire Chief Erik J. Litzenberg, EFO

Erik Litzenberg is the Fire Chief for the Santa Fe (N.M.) Fire Department. He holds a master's degree in public administration, and is currently working on a doctorate in sports administration. Chief Litzenberg is a graduate of the National Fire Academy Executive Fire Officer Program and the Center for Homeland Defense and Security Executive Leadership Program. Litzenberg represents the International Association of Fire Chiefs as the chair of the Wildland Fire Policy Committee, and is a member of the Wildland Fire Leadership Council. Chief Litzenberg has authored multiple articles and textbooks on fire service leadership, community risk reduction, and the wildland urban interface. He lives in Santa Fe with his wife and children.