

Randy Nelson
President
CHS Capital

Randy Nelson is president of CHS Capital, a subsidiary of CHS. He assumed his position with CHS Capital in November 2013.

Nelson has more than 25 years' experience in the cooperative system in credit, finance and operations. He was regional director for CHS Country Operations business units in Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Kansas and Oklahoma, where he provided leadership on all aspects of these businesses including profitability, personnel, safety, expansion projects and merger opportunities.

Previously, he was chief lending officer and director of credit for CHS Capital. In that role, Nelson led producer financing and introduced an enterprise approach to supporting Country Operations producer financing needs. He also served as director of credit for Country Operations for nine years, where he managed credit programs, implemented promotional programs to increase sales, and developed relationships with large growers.

Nelson grew up on a dairy and beef farm in Wisconsin. He earned his bachelor's degree in agricultural engineering from the University of Wisconsin, River Falls.
