

Doug Thiessen serves as the President and CEO of Alabama Ag Credit, a cooperative lending institution headquartered in Montgomery, Alabama and part of the Farm Credit System. While he has held that position since 2007, previous positions include serving as the Chief Financial Officer of First Ag Credit in Lubbock, Texas and holding various financial positions with Dell Computer and the Farm Credit Bank of Texas. He also served as a commissioned examiner with the Farm Credit Administration, the regulatory agency overseeing the Farm Credit System. Doug has a bachelor of science degree in agricultural economics from Texas Tech University and an executive master of business administration degree from Troy University. He is also a graduate of the LSU Graduate School of Banking. Today, Doug serves on the boards of the Alabama Future Farmers of America Foundation and the Alabama 4-H Club Foundation and serves as an Honorary Commander for the Squadron Officer School at Maxwell Air Force Base.