

Travis Antonsen, Senior Vice President, Grain Marketing and Rail Logistics Agtegra Cooperative

Travis Antonsen is the senior vice president of grain marketing and rail logistics at Agtegra Cooperative. He leads Agtegra Cooperative's grain division, where he drives its grain origination strategy, manages product lines, and oversees rail logistics. Antonsen joined Agtegra Cooperative in 2009 as a grain merchandiser. He has held numerous positions in his 14+ years with the cooperative, including domestic corn merchandiser, wheat product line manager, and director of origination. Antonsen also chairs the Agtegra Cooperative commercial risk committee. Prior to his role at Agtegra Cooperative, he was a commercial merchandiser at South Dakota Soybean Processors. Antonsen earned a bachelor's degree in ag-business from South Dakota State University. He was raised on a farm/ranch near Platte, SD and continues to be active in his family's farming operation.
