

Alison Bodor, Executive Vice President

At the National Confectioners Association, Alison Bodor provides strategic leadership across multiple disciplines while directly leading the association's public policy and advocacy team. Ms Bodor is responsible for overseeing NCA's legislative, regulatory, and research priorities around health, food safety and quality, agriculture and trade policy, and the cocoa supply chain. She has worked on behalf of the U.S. confectionery industry since joining the staff of NCA in 2000.

Prior to her tenure at NCA, Ms. Bodor held positions in domestic and international regulatory compliance at McCormick & Company and the U.S. Dairy Export Council. She also spent four years conducting dietary risk assessments for the food and beverage industries with Technical Assessment Systems and then Environ International Corporation.

Ms. Bodor holds an MBA from the University of Maryland and a bachelor's degree in Food Science from Cornell University.
