

Biography: William Stephen (Steve) Parker, Director Merial Veterinary Public Health

A native of North Carolina, Steve holds an under graduate degree in Animal Science from the University of Georgia, an MBA from Rutgers and a Master of Science in Conflict Management from Kennesaw State University. He is a 39 year animal health industry career professional beginning with Merck & Co., Inc. in 1977. Steve is currently Director of Veterinary Public Health with Merial Inc., a Sanofi Company, and is responsible for the business aspects of this function. Merial Veterinary Public Health collaborates with governments on advancing solutions to reportable infectious animal disease of major social and economic importance.