

Brief Biographical Statement
Thomas J. Cassidy, Jr. – National Trust for Historic Preservation

Tom Cassidy is Vice President of Government Relations and Policy for the National Trust for Historic Preservation, a position he has held since August, 2011. He is responsible for the overall direction and management of the National Trust's government relations agenda, including funding for the Historic Preservation Fund, transportation programs, and the cultural and historical programs of federal land management agencies. He also oversees the National Trust's policy agenda to protect and enhance the Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credit, the most significant federal investment in historic preservation.

Prior to joining the National Trust, Tom worked for The Nature Conservancy as its Director of Federal Land Programs for more than 12 years. In that capacity, he was responsible for representing the Conservancy on a variety of conservation issues before the Department of the Interior, United States Forest Service and Congress. His responsibilities included securing federal funding for priority Conservancy land acquisition projects through the Land and Water Conservation Fund, Forest Legacy and other programs.

Prior to joining the Conservancy, Tom spent nearly a decade with American Rivers where he served as General Counsel. He was responsible for a number of national campaigns, including successful efforts to protect Yellowstone National Park and Glacier Bay National Park from large mining proposals, and numerous legislative, administrative and judicial actions involving the National Wild and Scenic Rivers system.

Tom has also been an attorney in private practice.
