

Kitcki Carroll

Kitcki A. Carroll serves as the Executive Director for United South and Eastern Tribes, Inc. (USET). Established in 1969, USET is a non-profit, inter-tribal organization that collectively represents its twenty-six member Tribes at the regional and national level. In his capacity as Executive Director, he works to protect and promote the sovereignty rights of USET member nations. Mr. Carroll is a strong advocate for all Indian people and actively works to ensure that the United States fulfills its trust responsibilities and obligations to Indian Country. Mr. Carroll is an enrolled citizen of the Cheyenne and Arapaho Tribes of Oklahoma and is a descendant of Cheyenne Peace Chief, Chief Black Kettle.

Prior to his current not-for-profit work in Indian Country and prior Tribal government work, he served in diverse capacities in the insurance and financial services industry including as a Series 7 Securities Trader with one of the nation's largest broker/dealers. He also served as the statewide Director for Community Services for one of Nebraska's largest not-for-profit organizations. This experience in the Tribal government, not-for-profit, and for profit sectors provide him with a unique perspective and understanding as a Senior Executive. Kitcki has served on various workgroups, panels, task forces, boards, and advisory groups.
