

John Garder
Director, Budget and Appropriations
National Parks Conservation Association

John Garder coordinates NPCA's advocacy for national parks funding. He is a budget analyst, researcher, and advocate for more adequate funding for national parks to diverse audiences including Congress, the White House and the Department of the Interior. He came to NPCA after eight years of DC-based conservation advocacy for public interest groups. He has an M.S. in Resource, Policy and Behavior from the University of Michigan's School of Natural Resources and Environment and a B.A. from the University of Colorado at Boulder. In his free time, he is an avid outdoor recreationist on America's public lands.
