

Biographical Information for Judith E. Salter

Judith E. Salter is the former President and CEO of Turtle Bay Exploration Park, a $70 million cultural and educational complex on the banks of the Sacramento River in Redding, CA. Ms. Salter graduated from The George Washington University with a degree in political science. She has a professional background in business, government and non-profit management. She served on the Washington staffs Congressman Graham Purcell and Senator Lloyd Bentsen. She was the first Administrative Director of the Fort Mason Center in San Francisco, and subsequently served as the director of corporate and government relations for two major natural resources companies. Ms Salter has served widely on numerous arts, literacy, and social policy boards. She continues to consult with community organizations on fund raising, board development and strategic planning.