

Tom Cors is the director of conservation finance for The Nature Conservancy. Tom works on conservation funding, transportation and tax issues for the Conservancy. Tom has a B.S. in biology from Davidson College, an administrative law certificate from the University of Paris' Jean Monnet School of Law, and holds a J.D. from Vermont Law School.