

Christopher Bolton is the Chief Operating Officer of Norton Sound Health Corporation, (NSHC), a tribally owned and operated, independent, not-for-profit health care organization located in Nome, Alaska. Mr. Bolton has lived in Alaska for over ten years and began working for NSHC in 2012.

Mr. Bolton previously worked for the Alaska Region of Providence Health and Services for six years with the last four as the Hospital and Nursing Home Administrator for Providence Seward Medical and Care Center. He also worked for Baptist Health South Florida in Finance leadership roles before moving to Alaska. Mr. Bolton has a Master in Accountancy and Financial Information Systems from Cleveland State University and Master in Taxation from the George Washington University.