

Professional Biography
Sarah A. Cormell, MSW, APSW, SAC
Health Director Administrator
St. Croix Tribal Health Clinic

Sarah Taylor-Cormell is the Secretary of Health and Human Services for the St. Croix Chippewa Indian Tribe of Wisconsin. She has worked for tribes in several health and human services, direct service, administrative, and consulting capacities for the past 18 years.

Sarah was a top graduate in the part-time MSW program from the University of Wisconsin-Madison. She has maintained a relationship with the MSW program serving as a guest lecturer on various topics. Sarah also provides case supervision for St. Croix's Indian Child Welfare Act and Domestic Violence case workers, as well as completing her hours for her licensed clinical social worker license in behavioral health dual diagnosis therapy.

Sarah has been the health director the St. Croix Chippewa Indian Tribe for the past 7 years. Sarah is an enrolled member of the St. Croix Chippewa Indian Tribe of Wisconsin.