

Alexandra Murdoch

Alexandra Murdoch serves as the Vice President of Policy for American Forests, the oldest conservation organization in the United States. She oversees the formation of American Forests' policy agenda, government relations and external affairs, and advocacy effort. Prior to assuming her role at American Forests, she spent seven years at The Chesapeake Bay Foundation (CBF), where she served as the Federal Policy Director. She is a graduate of Hamilton College and Catholic University Columbus School of Law, and is licensed to practice law in the State of Maryland. She co-chairs the Agriculture Management Committee for the American Bar Association's Section on Energy and Environment and is a member of the Women's Council on Energy and the Environment.