

Jessica Bowron
Comptroller, National Park Service

Jessica Bowron is the Comptroller of the National Park Service. In this role, she oversees the budget, finance and related functions of the agency. She has worked in various budget functions for the National Park Service since 2007, when she joined Federal service through the Presidential Management Fellowship. She has previously served as the Chief of NPS Budget Formulation and Strategic Planning and as the Budget Execution Lead for the NPS Fire and Aviation Program.

Jessica holds a Bachelor of Science from Oregon State University and a Master of Science in Natural Resource Economics from the University of Arizona.