

Biography
Duane Clarke, Chairman
Hualapai Tribe of Arizona

Duane Clarke, a proud enrolled citizen of the Hualapai Nation, showed an early desire and ability to connect with people when he embarked on a successful broadcasting career, dating back to his high school days and furthering his service to people when he worked in law enforcement and public safety through BIA and with the Hualapai tribe for over 30 years, where he found himself in a leadership role.

Duane Clarke has demonstrated a deep commitment to serving his community. As an enrolled and engaged member of the Hualapai tribal community, Clarke's experience and understanding of the tribe's unique needs and challenges are invaluable. His leadership and expertise have been instrumental in shaping the tribe's public safety and initiatives.

Clarke's background and experience have made him an ideal leader for the Hualapai Tribe, and his commitment to serving his community is truly admirable.