

Bio of G. David Sload, President-CEO, ABC Keystone

G. David Sload is a construction industry and association professional with 39+ years of experience in all phases of design and construction on commercial and industrial projects. Mr. Sload began his career in 1978, as an architectural draftsman with a regional design/build firm in Lancaster County. Over the next 30 years, his career took him through estimating and project management to eventually serving as VP of Operations for a local construction management firm and now President-CEO of the Keystone Chapter of Associated Builders & Contractors. While working within the industry, Mr. Sload first volunteered with the ABC Keystone, including serving as their 2000 Chair of the Board. In 2011, he took the position of Director of Education and Training at the ABC Keystone. During his tenure with ABC, he has been instrumental in successfully promoting workforce development. Mr. Sload is extremely proud of having served as ABC Keystone's owner representative on the 31,000-sf addition and renovation project that was dedicated in April 2015. This project was developed to provide for training and career development for those seeking careers in the construction industry. In September of 2017, he was appointed President-CEO of the Keystone Chapter. In addition to his work at ABC, Sload serves on the Lancaster County Workforce Development Board and is Chairman of the General Advisory Committee for the Lancaster County Career and Technology Center. Mr. Sload graduated from the Thompson Institute in Harrisburg, with an Associate Degree in Architectural Design and Drafting Technology. He currently lives in Conestoga with his wife Debra.
