

Shennan Kavanagh is an Assistant Attorney General of the Massachusetts Attorney General's Office and the Deputy Chief of its Consumer Protection Division. She leads the Division's student loan servicing enforcement initiatives and manages an active caseload involving a variety of consumer finance matters. Prior to joining the Attorney General's Office, Ms. Kavanagh litigated complex consumer finance class actions nationally for 12 years.