

Rich Powell, Executive Director

Biography

Rich Powell is the Executive Director at ClearPath and ClearPath Action, the DC-based organizations developing and advancing conservative policies that accelerate clean energy innovation.

He educates policymakers on investing wisely in energy innovation, removing roadblocks to building and exporting American clean energy technology, and maintaining and promoting our flexible clean energy resources. Rich also leads ClearPath's external advocacy and research partnerships with non profits, academia, and the private sector.

Rich serves as a member of the 2019 Advisory Committee to the Export Import Bank of the United States.

Previously, Rich was with McKinsey & Company in the Energy and Sustainability practices. He focused on corporate clean energy strategy, government low carbon growth strategy, and clean tech market entry.

Education

B.A. from Harvard College in Environmental Science and Public Policy, and a J.D. from New York University.