

Stephanie Vu

Survivor, Advocate and Advisor to Shared Hope International and Youth For Tomorrow

Stephanie Vu was born in California. She was raised by her mother and stepfather and traveled frequently, both domestically and internationally. She was residing in Portland, Oregon when she became a victim of slavery. She is now a mother, wife, survivor and student at Liberty University for Crisis Intervention. Now she applies her knowledge to educate on modern-day slavery, and is deeply passionate about guiding victims through the path of becoming a survivor.
