

David Marroni is a Director in GAO's Physical Infrastructure team. He oversees work on federal real property management and the U.S. Postal Service.

David joined GAO in June 2004. Prior to his current position, he led projects examining the nation's energy infrastructure, including federal oversight of commercial nuclear power and energy sector cybersecurity, for GAO's Natural Resources and Environment team. He was also previously a professional staff member for the U.S. House Appropriations Committee.

David earned a master's degree in public policy from the University of Maryland and a bachelor's degree in political science from the Catholic University of America. He works in GAO's Atlanta Field Office.