

Enumale Agada Bio

Enumale Agada serves as the Acting Director for the Office of Diversity and Inclusion at the U.S. House of Representatives. She simultaneously serves as Oversight Counsel of the Committee on House Administration. Prior to these roles, Enumale practiced international trade law at a D.C. law firm for three years. She holds a bachelor's degree from Stanford University, a Master in Public Policy from the Harvard Kennedy School of Government, and a J.D. from Harvard Law School.

Enumale was born in Nigeria and immigrated to the United States with her family at the age of three. She is passionate about social justice, improving the access of students of color and non-traditional students to legal education, and encouraging diversity at all levels in both the public and private sectors.