

Jill Naamane

Biography:

Ms. Naamane is a Director in the Financial Markets and Community Investment team at the U.S. Government Accountability Office (GAO). She oversees work on programs and policies that support homeownership, as well as on the management and oversight of programs that promote affordable rental housing. Ms. Naamane joined GAO in 2001. Over her career, her work has led to savings to federal programs as well as agency actions and legislation to improve agency operations and enhance service to the public. She holds a master's degree in Public Policy from the University of Chicago's Harris School of Public Policy Studies and a bachelor's degree in French and International Relations from Grand Valley State University.

Short bio summary:

Ms. Naamane is a Director in the Financial Markets and Community Investment team at the U.S. Government Accountability Office. She oversees studies on housing finance and housing assistance.