

Tina Owens, Danone North America--Bio

Tina Owens is the Senior Director of Agricultural Funding and Communication for Danone North America, the largest public benefit corporation and the largest Certified B Corporation in the world. Tina leads the charge for embedding regenerative agriculture practices, farmer resiliency, regenerative financing and industry collaboration. Tina has spent two decades in the food industry, leading sustainability and strategic sourcing, managing third-party certifications and impacting agriculture across honeybee health, cocoa, almonds, wheat and farmer profitability via incentivized organic conversion.