

Veronica Robinson Biography

Veronica Robinson was born and raised in Philadelphia, is a mother of two sons, and a life-long worker with experience in a variety of industries. Early in her life she worked in a factory and in the retail sector. She spent 13 years as a classroom assistant in the Philadelphia School District assisting teachers of young children, before becoming a Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA). Once she became a CNA, she worked at a home health aide agency for 5 years. Ms. Robinson was working for the Southeastern Pennsylvania Transit Authority (SEPTA) as an ambassador for the SEPTA Key program when the COVID-19 pandemic hit. When she lost that job she turned to the unemployment system for assistance.