

Bio for Dr. Aaliyah A. Samuel

Dr. Aaliyah A. Samuel is the President and CEO of CASEL and Senior Fellow, Harvard University, Center on the Developing Child. Dr. Samuel previously served as Deputy Assistant Secretary, Local, State and National Engagement at the U.S. Department of Education and former Executive Vice President of Government Affairs & Partnerships at NWEA. Prior to NWEA, Dr. Samuel was the Director of Education at the National Governors Association (NGA). She holds an undergraduate degree from Tuskegee University, a Masters from University of South Florida, and a Specialist and Doctorate Degree from NOVA Southeastern.