

Darryl Cobb - Bio

Darryl Cobb serves as the President of the Charter School Growth Fund where he leads CSGF's portfolio of investments and support work across 200 outstanding charter networks serving 725K students across the country. He previously led CSGF's investment work in Florida, Tennessee, and across the Midwest/Southeast while also founding the Seed Fund in 2013, dedicated to helping charter school leaders build early-stage networks. Prior to joining CSGF, Darryl was the CEO of a turnaround charter school in Chicago. He also previously served as the Chief Learning Officer at the KIPP Foundation, where he led a portfolio of learning programs, including principal and teacher-leader development serving over 200 leaders. Before KIPP, Darryl worked as a management consultant at Accenture and Diamond Cluster. He is a graduate of the University of Virginia and has an MBA from Northwestern University. Darryl is a Pahara-Aspen fellow and Broad resident and serves on the board of the Pahara Institute and the Illinois Network of Charter Schools. Darryl resides in Chicago with his wife and two children.