“Screentime in Schools”

Representative Summer Lee (D-PA)

Question for Dr. Cheryl Holcomb-McCoy,

1. The Department of Education’s Office of Educational Technology (OET) was created to provide districts and states with guidance, best practices, and resources on technology in schools, including guidance on screentime. But, the Department of Education dismissed all OET staff, essentially eliminating the Office.
  - a. How will the elimination of the Office of Educational Technology limit our ability to address concerns about screentime and mental health? How will the elimination of OET hurt schools and students?
