

Celia Hartman Sims

Celia Hartman Sims is President and Founder of The Abecedarian Group, LLC working with organizations at the federal, state, and local levels to develop and improve policies in the fields of child care, education, child welfare and social services, and workforce. Ms. Sims has over 20 years experience working on federal and state policymaking.

Prior to founding The Abecedarian Group, Ms. Sims served as education policy director for the U.S. Senate Committee on Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions and senior policy advisor for Senator Richard Burr (R-NC) where she worked on important federal legislation, including the Child Care and Development Block Grant, Head Start, the Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act, the Family Violence Prevention and Services Act, the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, and the Higher Education Act. Ms. Sims has also served as Vice President of Government Relations for KinderCare Education, the nation's largest private provider of child care and early education, and as senior policy advisor at the U.S. Department of Education. Ms. Sims began her career as a high school Latin teacher.

Ms. Sims holds a bachelor's degree in classics and U.S. history from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and a master's degree in Latin from the University of Michigan. Ms. Sims is resident of Houston, Texas and volunteers as a court-appointed special advocate for children involved in the child welfare system.