

Daleep Singh is the Deputy Assistant Secretary for Europe and Eurasia at the Department of Treasury. Previously, he was the Director of Treasury's Markets Group, where he advised the senior leadership at Treasury and the White House on developments in global markets and policy design. Before joining the Administration in 2011, he worked at Goldman Sachs, where he traded emerging market debt and currencies in London and previously focused on U.S. interest rates out of New York. Daleep was also a founding executive at a global investment firm in New York. He has an MBA/MPA from MIT and Harvard, as well as a B.A. from Duke University.