

John Hannah

Senior Fellow, Foundation for Defense of Democracies

John Hannah is currently a senior fellow at the Foundation for Defense of Democracies and president of the consulting firm, Global Futures LLC. He also serves as Senior Advisor to Arcanum Global Intelligence and JINSA's Gemunder Center for Defense and Strategy.

Mr. Hannah served on the staff of former Vice President Dick Cheney for eight years, including as the Vice President's national security advisor from 2005-2009. In previous government service, Mr. Hannah worked at the U.S. Department of State during the administrations of President George H.W. Bush and President Bill Clinton.

From 1991-1993, he was a senior member of Secretary of State James A. Baker's Policy Planning Staff with responsibility for the Middle East and Eurasia. From 1993-1996, Mr. Hannah served as a senior policy advisor to Secretary of State Warren Christopher. From 1987-1991, Mr. Hannah was a senior fellow and deputy director of The Washington Institute for Near East Policy. Between 1999-2001, Mr. Hannah practiced law at the Washington office of Powell, Goldstein, Frazer & Murphy, specializing in international dispute resolution.

Mr. Hannah is a graduate of Duke University and The Yale Law School. He is married with two children.

1726 M Street NW Suite 700 Washington, DC 20036