

Lee Wolosky

Special Envoy for Guantanamo Closure

Term of Appointment: 07/06/2015 to present

Lee Wolosky is Special Envoy for Guantanamo Closure at the United States Department of State. He has extensive experience in and out of government dealing with the most complicated problems at the juncture of national security, foreign policy and the law. His previous government positions include Director for Transnational Threats on the National Security Council under Presidents Clinton and George W. Bush. He is an attorney, and has served as a partner of Boies, Schiller & Flexner LLP, a leading national law firm.

Mr. Wolosky is a graduate of Harvard College and Harvard Law School. While in law school, he served as a law clerk to the Honorable Sonia Sotomayor, who was then a federal district court judge. He is a life member of the Council on Foreign Relations and served as an international affairs fellow at the Council on Foreign Relations. He has also served as an Adjunct Professor in International Affairs at Columbia University. He was a founding member of the board of directors of the National Security Network.