

Brian Leung Kai-ping is a Hong Kong democracy activist, who is known for reading a statement on behalf of the protesters at the Legislative Council that crystallized “the five demands” for the 2019 anti-extradition movement. He is also a Ph.D. student in political science at the University of Washington in Seattle, focusing on political economy and civil society in China and Hong Kong.