

James A. Carouso

Following a fourteen year career in international banking and finance, James joined the U.S. Department of State in 1995. Since then he has served in a variety of economic and commercial roles in the Dominican Republic, South Africa, Australia, Thailand and Cyprus, including acting as a member of the U.S. teams negotiating Free Trade Agreements in Australia and Thailand.

Most recently, James served as the Counselor for Economic Affairs at the U.S. Embassy in Jakarta prior to taking up his current position as Director of the State Department Office responsible for relations with the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaysia, Brunei, Singapore and East Timor.

James holds a degree in Economics from Hamilton College and a Masters in International Finance from the American Graduate School of International Mangement.