

| Source | Amount | Purpose |
|---|---------------|---|
| Office Of Net Assessment | $ 320,297.00 | To help the Office of Net Assessment and the Department of Defence understand the strategic implications of maritime acquisitions of foreign powers |
| Naval Post Graduate School | $ 149,644.80 | Research project to elucidate the implications of China's growing military power for the U.S. ability to effectively deter conflict if necessary, prevail in a way that controls escalation. |
| Taipei Economic & Cultural Representatives Offi | $ 230,000.00 | To support the NexGen Program at Center for New American Security. This program is a leadership program for the future leaders of the American security community |
| Taipei Economic & Cultural Representatives Offi | $ 200,000.00 | Continue (second year of funding) to build a successful relationship with the Government of Taiwan to help provide analytical insight and critical opportunities for two-way dialogue in support of the security objectives of the United States and Taiwan |
| Taipei Economic & Cultural Representatives Offi | $ 200,000.00 | To build a successful relationship with the Government of Taiwan to help provide analytical insight and critical opportunities for two-way dialogue in support of the security objectives of the United States and Taiwan |
| Government of Japan | $ 252,520.00 | To produce the report " Staying Ahead of the Curve: Alliance Requirement for Managing China's Maritime Might" |
| Government of Japan | $ 247,188.00 | To produce the report " "Beyond the San Hai: Implications of China's Emerging Blue water Maritime Strategy" |