

Jonathan Fritz
Deputy Assistant Secretary
East Asian & Pacific Affairs
U.S. Department of State

Jonathan Fritz is the Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for East Asian & Pacific Affairs responsible for China, Mongolia, and Taiwan coordination. He had previously served as the Director for Bilateral & Regional Affairs in the State Department's Office of International Communications & Information Policy. Before returning to Washington, he had been posted at the U.S. Embassy in Beijing, serving alternately as Minister-Counselor for Economic Affairs, Chief of Staff, acting Deputy Chief of Mission, and chargé d' affaires.

From 2010-2014 Jonathan headed the economic sections of our embassies in Canberra and Kabul. He has also worked on trade, investment, and IPR issues in Beijing, Mexico City, and Hong Kong.

Jonathan served in Washington as a special assistant to Deputy Secretary of State Robert Zoellick, as a trade negotiator in the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative, and as a desk officer in the State Department's Office of Chinese & Mongolian Affairs. Jonathan began his Foreign Service career with consular tours in China and Ecuador.

Jonathan spent two years at the U.S. Air Force Academy and graduated from Stanford University with a B.A. and an M.A. in East Asian studies.

He is married to fellow Foreign Service officer Nancy Chen. They have three children.
