

Bio – Yona Schiffmiller

Yona Schiffmiller is Director of Research at NGO Monitor, a Jerusalem-based research institute.

In his research, he has focused on issues related to the provision of humanitarian assistance, including the diversion of aid by terrorist organizations in Gaza and the West Bank. He authored and edited chapters of the 2015 publication, Filling in the Blanks, analyzing misuse and diversion of aid in Gaza, as well as developments related to the 2014 conflict there.

Yona has also researched and written on the nexus between terror-linked NGOs and UN agencies, as well as the relationships between these organizations and donor governments.

Yona has testified before Israeli parliamentary committees addressing aid diversion, antisemitism on US campuses, and other developments related to NGO-sponsored BDS initiatives.
