

HILLS & COMPANY
INTERNATIONAL CONSULTANTS

Ambassador Carla A. Hills
Chair and Chief Executive Officer
Hills and Company International Consultants

Carla A. Hills is chairman and chief executive officer of Hills & Company International Consultants which provides advice to international firms on investment, trade, and risk assessment issues abroad, particularly in emerging market economies.

Ambassador Hills served in the cabinets of President George H.W. Bush as United States Trade Representative and of President Gerald R. Ford as Secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. She also served as an assistant attorney general in the Civil Division of the Department of Justice in the Ford administration.

Ambassador Hills currently serves on the international advisory board of J.P. Morgan Chase and is a member of the board of Gilead Sciences. She also serves on a number of not-for-profit boards including as co-chair of the Council on Foreign Relations, of the Inter-American Dialogue, and of the International Advisory Board of the Center for Strategic and International Studies, as Chair of the National Committee on US-China Relations, and member of the Executive Committee of the Peterson Institute for International Economics and of the Trilateral Commission. Currently she serves as a member of the Secretary of State's Foreign Affairs Policy Board.

She graduated from Stanford University and obtained her law degree from the Yale Law School. She holds honorary degrees from a number of colleges and universities. In 2000, Ambassador Hills was awarded the Aztec Eagle, the highest honor given by the Mexican government to a non-citizen of that country.

Before entering government, Ambassador Hills co-founded and was partner in a Los Angeles law firm and served as an adjunct professor at the University of California at Los Angeles Law School teaching antitrust law.

She resides in Washington, D.C. with her husband, Roderick M. Hills. They are the parents of four children.