

BIOGRAPHY. ENRIQUE DUSSEL PETERS

Professor at the Graduate School of Economics, Universidad Nacional Autónoma de México (UNAM), 1993 to present. Consultant for several Mexican and international institutions. B.A. and M.A. in Political Science at the Free University of Berlin, and Ph.D. in Economics at the University of Notre Dame. Research topics: economic development, political economy, industrial organization and trade theory, NAFTA and CAFTA, evolution of industrial, trade and regional patterns in Latin America and Mexico. Research on specific segments of commodity chains such as pineapples, lemons, electronics, yarn-textile-garments, autoparts-automobiles and pharmaceutical, among others, and increasingly with a comparative (Mexico-China) perspective. Coordinator of the Area of Political Economy at the Graduate School of Economics at UNAM (2004-2008), Coordinator of the Center for Chinese-Mexican Studies at the National Autonomous University of Mexico (since 2006) (<http://www.economia.unam.mx/cechimex/index.php/es/>), and Coordinator of the Academic Network of Latin American and Caribbean on China (RED ALC-CHINA, <http://www.redalc-china.org/>) (since May 2012). Has taught more than 200 courses at the under and graduate level since 1993; more than 30 books (edited, coordinated and/or as the single author) in English and Spanish and more than 300 articles in books, journals, working papers and newspapers in Chinese, English, German, Portuguese, and Spanish. <http://dusselpeters.com>.