

Michele Dunne is a senior fellow and director of the Middle East Program at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. A specialist on political and economic developments in Arab countries, she has followed developments in Egypt for more than 30 years.

She previously worked as a U.S. diplomat serving at the U.S. missions in Cairo and Jerusalem as well as the National Security Council staff. Dr. Dunne also was the founding director of the Rafik Hariri Center for the Middle East at the Atlantic Council.

Dr. Dunne holds a Ph. D. from Georgetown University.