

Wendin D. Smith, Ph.D.

Dr. Wendin D. Smith is currently a Managing Director at Deloitte Consulting. Prior to Deloitte, Dr. Smith served as the Senior Advisor to the U.S. Special Operations Command (USSOCOM) for Countering Weapons of Mass Destruction (CWMD), and as the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense (DASD) for CWMD in the Office of the Secretary of Defense, Policy.

Previously, Dr. Smith supported public and private sector clients, including the U.S. Departments of Defense and Energy, in designing and executing cooperative threat reduction, nonproliferation, and public diplomacy programs in the former Soviet Union. In addition, she supported commercial clients in the nexus between nuclear energy and nonproliferation, providing services related to compliance with international treaties and norms, regulatory reviews, and export/import requirements. Dr. Smith has also supported clients in biological threat reduction and biosafety & biosecurity programs.

Dr. Smith has the privilege of serving as a Senior Mentor for the National Defense University's Center for the Study of WMD, Program on Emerging Leaders. She also serves on the Board of Trustees of the Webb Schools of California, her high school alma mater, as well as on the Advisory Board of Advanced Technology International.

Dr. Smith holds a Ph.D. and MALD from The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University, and is fluent in Russian, having lived and worked in the former Soviet Union and Russia for several years in the 1990s.