

Marc Garlasco is the military advisor at PAX where he works with the UN, NATO, and the US military on civilian harm issues. He was Chief of High Value Targeting on the Joint Staff during Operation Iraqi Freedom and led UN war crimes investigations in Afghanistan, Libya, and Syria. He has worked in numerous conflict zones investigating war crimes for NGOs and specialized in civilian harm mitigation while at Center for Naval Analyses.