

Ron Suskind is a Pulitzer Prize-winning American journalist and best-selling author. He was the senior national affairs writer for The Wall Street Journal from 1993 to 2000 and has published the books A Hope in the Unseen, The Price of Loyalty, The One Percent Doctrine, The Way of the World, Confidence Men, and most recently his memoir Life, Animated: A Story of Sidekicks, Heroes, and Autism, which explores his son Owen's struggle with autism. Since the book's publication, Ron has traveled the country as an autism expert, speaking to audiences at the United Nations, NIH, U Chicago, and Harvard as well as on numerous TV and radio shows, including Good Morning America, The Daily Show, Diane Rehm, and Bill Maher, among other platforms. He lives in Cambridge, MA, with his wife Cornelia Kennedy and is currently Senior Fellow at the Center for Ethics at Harvard University.