

Dr. Frank E. Glover is the director of The Urology Institute and Continence Center and The Urology Institute Ambulatory Surgery Center. He received his medical degree from the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine and a doctorate in public health from the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene of Public Health. He completed a research fellowship at the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. His discovery of the world's highest rate of prostate cancer in Jamaica has been internationally recognized and published in numerous journals and textbooks, including the American Journal of Urology. D Frank Glover is a member of the American Medical Association, the National Medical Association and the American Urological Association.