

Augustino Ting Mayai

Augustino Ting Mayai is the Director of Research at the Sudd Institute. Augustino's major research interests include childhood mortality differentials in Sudan and South Sudan, applied quantitative methodology (econometrics), applied development research, social accountability and public service delivery, and the demography of conflicts and violence.

Prior to co-founding the Sudd Institute, Augustino worked on a wide range of research projects sponsored by the Office of the President—South Sudan, the World Bank, UNICEF, Integrity Research and Consultancy, Capacity Building Trust Fund, the US National Science Foundation, and UNFPA.

Augustino holds a PhD (2015) and an MS (2008) in Sociology, with concentrations in demography and development studies from the University of Wisconsin-Madison and a BS (2006) in Sociology from the University of Utah. He currently studies how state effectiveness affects child health outcomes in South Sudan and Ethiopia, which his dissertation explored.
