

PATRICK MERLOE

NDI's DIRECTOR OF ELECTORAL PROGRAMS AND SENIOR ASSOCIATE

Patrick Merloe has over 30 years of experience in promoting citizen empowerment, governmental accountability, public policy advocacy and electoral integrity. He serves as Senior Associate and Director of Electoral Programs at the National Democratic Institute (NDI). Pat has participated in over 150 international missions for NDI to more than 65 countries, including 22 countries in Africa, concerning political rights, electoral integrity and democratic development. He has produced over a dozen publications on comparative law, human rights and elections. Pat received his Juris Doctor degree from the University of Pennsylvania, conducted graduate work at the Institute for Policy Studies, Washington, DC, and completed his undergraduate education at Temple University. He is an adjunct professor of law at the University of the District of Columbia and taught at the University of San Francisco and University of Pennsylvania law schools.