Bridget Moix, PhD Biography

Dr. Bridget Moix serves as Peace Direct’s US Executive Director, collaborating policymakers donors, and the peacebuilding community. She has worked for 20 years on international peace and conflict issues, with a focus on US foreign policy. She spent nine years lobbying on US foreign policy and peace issues with the Friends Committee on National Legislation, where she developed and led the Peaceful Prevention of Deadly Conflict program. Bridget holds a PhD with George Mason University’s School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution, where she focused her dissertation on understanding the motivations of local peacebuilders and how the international community can better support them.
